LAWMAKERS HASTEN TO COMPLETE WORK

LEGISLATURE SETTLING DOWN TO REAL BUSINESS IN DISPOSING OF BILLS PRESENTED AT THIS SESSION.

BANKING MEASURES

One in Regarding State Banking Examiner and the Other Affecting Mutual Savings Bank in Milwaukee—Other Bills Handled.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Madison, May 17.—Both houses of the legislature disposed of long calendars and "getting down to business" attitude was plainly evident.

By a vote of forty-four to thirty-seven the assembly defeated the O'Connor motion to reconsider the vote by which the lawman resolution authorizing the commissioner of public lands to secure options to a suitable site for the state fair, now located at Milwaukee, was defeated.

The senate today under suspension of rules considered in two measures affecting state banks. The first would require state banks to pay all costs of their examination by the state banking commissioner and increase the salary of that official from four thousand to five thousand dollars. It further grants him additional assistance in his office.

The second measure prohibits mutual savings banks, of which there are three in the state, one at Beloit and two at Milwaukee, from loaning money on personal security.

The senate adopted a resolution amending the state constitution to enable the state to purchase and develop water powers in the levying of additional taxes.

The Albers bill empowering fire and police boards to fix the salaries of firemen and police in cities was advanced. Under the present system common councils of cities have this power.

The assembly today killed the Straub bill which would abolish the office of state auditor.

LA FOLLETTE GIVES VIEWS ON DECISION IN PLAIN LANGUAGE

Does Not Appear Pleased With the Holdings of the Supreme Court on Standard Oil Case.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Disapproval of judicial legislation, as expressed in Chief Justice White's opinion in the Standard Oil decision, and appreciation for the stand taken by Justice John M. Harlan, is the attitude taken by Senator La Follette in the following statement which he wrote for the United Press:

"Assuming that he correctly interprets the decision of the court, I say that the supreme court has written into the law a construction which that court has heretofore decided unwarranted and unsafe. It is this very construction which the trusts and combinations have sought to engraft upon the law for many years.

"Congress has refused to amend the law so as to leave it to the courts to say that some combinations in restraint of trade are reasonable and some are unreasonable. If it should find this decision, in effect, amends the anti-trust law, as Judge Harlan asserts, then it will have the most unfavorable example of legislation by judicial construction which our country affords."

CANADIAN TREATY IS SUBJECT DISCUSSED

Governor of Michigan Appears Before Congress to Urge Passage of Measure.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Washington, May 17.—The expected renewal of the anti-trust legislation following the Standard Oil decision came today with an introduction of several bills designed to effect the interpretation of the law as laid down by Chief Justice White and to take away from courts the discretion to differentiate between "good" and "bad" trusts.

Governor Osborn of Michigan, this afternoon addressed the senate committee in favor of the Canadian reciprocity.

SPEAKER DEFIES DENEEN AND TAFT

Adkins of Illinois Assembly Says Deep Waterways Bill, Recommended by Officials, Will Never Come Up in House.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)

Springfield, Ill., May 17.—Openly defying the recommendations of Gov. Deneen and President Taft for the passage of the deep waterways to the gulf measure, Speaker Adkins of the Illinois lower house, today arose and dramatically declared he would never allow the measure, which had passed the senate, to come up in the house. The bill provides a $200,000,000 appropriation.

BIG TRUST PREPARES TO OBEY ORDERS OF THE SUPREME COURT

Mapping Out Plans To Dissolve the Big Trust Combination Declared Unlawful.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)

New York, May 17.—Attorneys and big chiefs of the Standard Oil Company got down to work on plans to meet the decision of the supreme court and dissolve.

A tentative plan of reorganization will likely include the branches, producing, manufacturing, transportation and selling, according to officials, although it is not likely a final decision will be made for some time.

Had Its Effect.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—In the prosecution of the anti-trust trust and many smaller prosecutions by the government pending for plans it was declared today the government has its work almost doubled as the result of the Standard Oil case decision, that a combination in restraint of trade to be illegal must be proved "unreasonable." Many of the smaller prosecutions may be dropped, it was stated.

Are Confused.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The decision of the United States Supreme court in the Standard Oil case has left a confused impression among lawyers here as to what the court's final decision in the tobacco trust case will be.

It was expected that the court's interpretation of the Sherman law in either of the two big trust suits would furnish an immediate and definite impression of the degree to be expected in the case left undecided. The new "rule of reason" in the opinion of many, leaves the American tobacco decree dependent upon whether the court ultimately determines the combination in "unreasonable" restraint of trade.

PEACE PACT WILL BE SIGNED BY FRIDAY IS REPORT TODAY

Everything Points To Peaceful Ending of the Insurgent Outbreak Against Diaz Government.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)

El Paso, Texas, May 17.—An announcement from Juarez that the armistice between the warring factions in Mexico will be renewed, is expected before tonight and before Friday morning it is predicted that an agreement declaring permanent peace will have been signed by President Diaz and Madero.

CANADIAN TREATY SEVERELY SCORED IN SENATE TODAY

CRAWFORD OF SOUTH DAKOTA CALLS IT HARD NAMED IN DEBATE.

NO GOOD FEATURES

Says It is the Abandonment of a Grave Duty—Speaks Several Hours.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, May 17.—The reciprocity agreement with Canada was characterized as a "sawdust abandonment of a grave duty" in a speech delivered in the senate today by Senator Geo. L. Crawford of South Dakota. Mr. Crawford spoke for several hours in opposition to the agreement. He charged that not only would it fail to promote the general welfare, but that it would do irreparable harm to agriculture. Indeed, he declared, it to be a discrimination against the farmer in favor of the trusts and of Canada. He found in it especial effort to favor the newspapers. The President's contention that it would reduce the cost of living he would not accept.

"The proposed law," Mr. Crawford, said, "is, in effect, a declaration that we intend no longer to depend upon the civilization of our own soil and the industry of the American farmer for our food supplies; and that agriculture in the United States is no longer to hold its imperial place at the head of our great industries, but is henceforth to be treated as a pursuit of lesser importance among American people; because from this time on we shall look beyond these American farms into foreign lands and we shall invite the whole world, upon equal terms to compete with the American farmer in his own market place."

Asserting that the principal beneficiaries under the bill would be the trusts, Senator Crawford mentioned many of them, among them the Linseed oil, the brewing, the distilling, the beef and the manufactured food companies.

Mr. Crawford paid his respects to Governor Foss of Massachusetts, declaring that "we have allowed Canada to take the adherents of Gov. Foss and highly protected manufacturers of New England through this treaty into a cold-blooded betrayal of the American farmer." He asserted that, in effect, Mr. Foss was laboring in behalf of the millers and brewers' trusts of Massachusetts rather than for a reduction of the cost of living.

Charging one great purpose of the bill to be to put news print paper and wood pulp on the free list, Mr. Crawford asked why this was so. Replying to his own question, he said: "Simply because the great newspapers and the great magazines of the United States—as a special class—aggressively organized for the purpose, demand it, and propose to get it as a special privilege."

Mr. Crawford fell into prophesy, saying: "Instead of leading in the system which is developing an empire in Canada, and which enables Germany and France to keep their place in the world of agriculture, commerce and manufactures, the United States will follow England in a policy which in many ways is adapted to the needs of the two small islands known as Great Britain, which is not adapted to the needs of a nation like ours—the possession of half a continent with infinite possibilities in the yet undeveloped resources of its soil; the adoption of a policy, in which the country is to yield forever the scepter of power and influence to the city; a policy which will soon change the entire character of our institutions and the quality of our citizenship."

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PRESBYTERIANS

ATLANTIC CITY MEETING PLACE OF DELEGATES REPRESENTING CHURCHES ALL OVER AMERICA.

CHARGES OF HERESY

Allegations Against Union Theological Seminary President and Professor May Be Brought Up At Conclave On Friday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Atlantic City, N. J., May 17.—Nearly all of the 888 delegates to the annual meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which opens here tomorrow, have already arrived in town, together with a large number of visitors.

With the calling to order of the foreign missionary conference this afternoon the assembly began to get underway, though the formal opening does not take place until tomorrow morning. The annual report of the Board of Foreign Missions shows the largest gifts to missions ever made by the board, amounting to $1,698,500. The receipts of the board were also the largest, and were $1,632,000 from regular sources.

The most important event of the regular session of the assembly tomorrow will be the selection of a moderator. Ordinarily the election is preceded by a more or less spirited contest, though the candidates themselves never take an active part. This year, however, there appears to be an unusual dearth of candidates. Some of the Western commissioners have launched a good election boom in behalf of Dr. A. Matthews of Seattle. The only candidate thus far offered by the Eastern part of the country is Rev. John F. Carson, D. D., pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn. Other candidates for the moderatorship will probably appear before the election tomorrow afternoon.

The much discussed heresy charges are likely to crop up Friday, when the reports of the presbyteries are read. The charges against whom the charges of heresy have been made are the Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, president of the Union Theological Seminary in New York city, and one of the most eminent theologians in America, and the Rev. Dr. William Adams Gribbs, a professor in the Union Seminary.

The charges against these two clergymen are brought by the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh. Dr. McEwan complains about certain statements made by the two clergymen in recent newspaper articles written by them which he construes to be in direct opposition to the most cherished doctrines of the Church, as well as the essential and fundamental beliefs of Christianity.

The executive commission of the assembly, a body recently created to carry on the work of Presbyterianism during the year, met today to put the flashing touches to the reports and recommendations to be presented to the assembly. The leading recommendation affects the various boards of the Church, grouping them in four classes, and providing that the trustees or directors of one board may serve on any other in the same classification. The plan, it is said, call for some radical changes in the present system of management, and the fear is openly expressed that the commission's recommendation will meet with vigorous opposition in the assembly.

It is believed the effort to reduce the number of members of the assembly will be successful this year. Of late years the body has increased in size until it has become unwieldy. The executive commission is expected to recommend a reduction to about 600 members.

Another important recommendation of the commission, which is to be considered and acted upon by the assembly, is that the budget committee confer with the boards in New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, in a proposed financial campaign for the benevolent fund of the church, to be carried on under the direction of the commission.

Southern Baptists At Jacksonville. Jacksonville, Fla., May 17.—The general convention of the Southern Baptist Church, which is the largest delegated body in the world, assembled for its annual meeting in this city today, and will continue in session until Tuesday next. Several thousand visitors are in attendance, among them being the most prominent divines, educators, missionaries and laymen of the denomination. The convention will review the year's work of the missionary, educational and publication societies of the church. The reports of the missionary organization this year are especially gratifying. The Home Mission Society successfully executed its task to raise $400,000 during the fiscal year, while the Foreign Mission Board also had a year of almost unprecedented prosperity. At the beginning of the convention the most important matter appears to be the election of a new president to succeed Joshua L. Loring of Baltimore, who is completing his third term. Among those mentioned for the honor are President Brooks of Baylor University, Dr. W. W. Landrum of Louisville, and Dr. Lancelot Burrows, who has been secretary of the convention for nearly 30 years.

CARLOAD OF CHARCOAL BURNED AT NEW YARD

Entire Contents of Box Car Damaged by Flames Last Night—Fire Lasted All Night.

Spontaneous combustion in the probable cause for the fire which destroyed a box car load of charcoal at the South Janesville yards last night. The car was not off yesterday afternoon and at that time the charcoal, which was of the powdered variety, contained in hundred pound bags, was smoldering. During the evening the flames broke out and several streams of water were directed onto the fire for a long time. Owing to the quantity of the material, which was all much heated, the fire could not be entirely put out and was smoldering this morning. It burned through one side of the car before the flames were finally extinguished.

Jon. Smith has directed his inventive abilities toward the perfecting of a machine for the washing of overalls. It is a very ingenious arrangement consisting of a box with a corrugated steel board at one end. Steam is forced into the contrivance at one end, and the apparel, which has been previously placed in the box, is rubbed against the corrugations, producing the required results of cleansing. Those who have tried it say that it is the best yet and application will undoubtedly be made for a patent.

Jon. Collins recently placed himself in a precarious position when he agreed to fix the valve in the post stock at the depot. It was necessary for him to crawl into the machine, which is of small dimensions. He made the downward trip with ease, but when he had finished the repairs he met with difficulty in the backward crawl. About he stuck fast and it required the united efforts of two car repairers and a switchtender to extricate him from his tight and uncomfortable position.

Engineer John Cole and Fireman Urban doubleheaded 578 to Harvard, with engine 1295, which is just out of the South Janesville shops after a general overhauling.

Conductor Anderson is laying off and is in Chicago for the purpose of making final arrangements for moving to that city. Conductor McCarthy is taking his place.

Dispatcher's Helper Joseph L. Hony is laying off and is being relieved by Fireman Coen.

Edward Angio has been assigned as switchtender at the south end switch.

R. C. Winick is in Chicago today. Engine 1212 was brought to the local shops for repairs this morning.

Fireman Wilke is laying off.

Conductor H. H. Parry was on hand for the Harrington run this morning, but was disappointed.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Engineer McCarthy and Fireman Watson went out on an extra west on the Mineral Point division at 11:45 this morning.

Engineer Higgins and Fireman Elbert double headed train No. 330 to Madison this morning, with engine 734.

Engineer Mead is laying off and is being relieved by Engineer McCarthy.

Stratlin and Placido, the two Italians, who were injured on the Monterey railroad bridge about a week ago, are reported to be getting along nicely. They are still confined to their beds at the Mercy Hospital.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Susan Sherwood. Mrs. Susan A. Sherwood, aged seventy-four years, passed away last evening at eight o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Winslow, 429 Logan street. Death came after an illness of five months, during which time she had suffered with paralysis. She was stricken the first of January, and a second stroke which came last Thursday brought a shock from which she did not recover.

Mrs. Sherwood was born in Matamoras, Ill., July 22, 1837. She was married to Thomas N. Sherwood in 1854 and had made her home in this city for some twenty-six years past. She was possessed of a kindly disposition which won many loyal friends.

Besides her husband, she is survived by six children, among whom are: Mrs. A. W. Stevens of Milwaukee; Mrs. Olive Hoyle of Indianapolis; and Mrs. E. R. Winslow of this city; all of whom were at the bedside at the time of her death. The funeral will be held from the home on Logan street tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Charles Parsons. The remains of the late Mrs. Charles Parsons arrived here this morning from Dubuque and were taken to the home of George S. Parker, 805 Court street. The funeral was held this afternoon at two o'clock. Archdeacon Henry Wilhelm officiated and interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Anglo-Canadian Wedding. London, May 17.—In the Holy Trinity Church today Miss Mary Beresford Windham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Windham, of Alberta, Canada, and granddaughter of the late Lieut. Gen. Sir Charles Asho Windham, was married to Lewis Edward Cadogan, son of Earl Cadogan.

Wisconsin Gas Association. Milwaukee, Wis., May 17.—The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Gas Association was begun at the Hotel Pfister today with President W. H. Winslow of Superior presiding. The association will spend two days in the reading and discussion of papers on technical subjects.

COURTESY BEST POLICY

SANTA FE EMPLOYEES ORDERED TO BE ALWAYS POLITE

"Don'ts" That Should Be Observed in Their Intercourse With Passengers—Effect of New Order is Likely to Be Far-Reaching.

Politeness, according to the new Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe copy-book, is the best policy. And railway ways ought to know. A general order to all passenger agents and other employees of the company to be polite has been issued by J. M. Connell, general passenger agent at Topeka. While Mr. Connell's order is more or less general in character, it does not specify rules of politeness with a Chesterfieldian exactness, it does indicate a few "don'ts" to be observed.

"Do not humiliate a passenger through an assumption of superior knowledge," the order warns, "or an exacting or sarcastic attitude. This attitude is not clever. Place yourself in the passenger's position; realize that the apparent thoughtlessness of his question is not intended to annoy you or to give you an opportunity to enjoy your humor at his expense. Endeavor to consider his questions intelligently and appreciate their true import. Answer him courteously and patiently. Smooth his way a bit with a kindly word or thoughtful suggestion."

While the order deals only with the attitude of employees toward passengers, its effect is bound to be far-reaching. Who shall say where the habit of politeness, once it gets a start, will stop? In time the Santa Fe's improved manners may exert an influence even upon the untutored persons who have made it their business to hold up and rob the company's trains. Heretofore those proceedings have been conducted with rudeness and some display of force. But, softened by the new amenities, it is possible to foresee a certain sweetness in the manner of carrying out these programs in the future. What an example will be to other railroads to see a Santa Fe train crew and their one-time enemies courteously and gracefully holding parley in the door of the express car, looking to an agreeable and gentlemanly surrender of the safe; the conductor, to use Mr. Connell's words, smoothing the way with a kindly word or thoughtful suggestion!

Keeping Record of Ties. The Lehigh Valley railroad has adopted a plan for recording the age of every new cross-tie on the system. This will enable the company to determine with mathematical accuracy the relative efficiency of the different woods and the value of the cross-tie preservation treatment.

It is done in this way: First, the dating nails are manufactured, with the proper numerals on the heads, indicating the year; for example, "11," meaning the year 1911. Then one of the nails is driven into each new tie as it is laid on the track. Thus in the future the maintenance of way experts will be able upon the replacement of a tie to know just how long it has lasted.

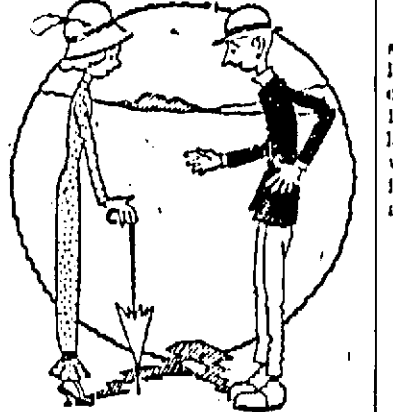

The steadily rising price of lumber compels the railroads to use wood that has undergone "treatment" to prevent decay. It is expected that the injection of creosote oil into the pores of the wood will double its life.

Professional Advice. A rich English clothier, being advised to try the Bath waters, requested his physician to recommend him to a doctor who might be prevailed on, which was accordingly done. Not fancying Bath, he in a few weeks heard something wonderful said of Cheltenham, and told his Bath acquaintance he would go there if he could give him a letter to a skillful physician of the place, describing the case. This the doctor promised and performed, and had a liberal remuneration for his additional trouble. Our clothier set off early on a fine summer morning, and as his chaise was driving slowly along the road he thought it would be no great breach of confidence to open the doctor's packet and see the particulars of his own case. "This he did with great care, and after unfolding a quantity of blank paper came to the letter, which was couched in the following words: "Dear Sir: The bearer is a fat Whitehead clothier; make the most of him."—THE JOKER.

Decreases in Revenue. The passenger revenue a passenger mile, which in 1888 was 2.40 cents, in 1899 had decreased to 1.973 cents and in 1908 to 1.933 cents. In the decade from 1888 to 1898 there was a decrease in freight revenue from 1.0 cent a mile to 0.753 cent, at which latter figure it also stood in 1908.

Immense American Tonnage. On the railroads of the United States there are 100,000,000 tons, carrying millions of cars and hauling 2,000,000,000 tons of freight. This practically equals all the tonnage carried by all the railroads and ships of the rest of the world.

Luck. "Pa, is there such a thing as luck?" "Of course there is, my boy. It is always luck when a batsman on the opposing team makes a home run."

Even a Better Apollo. B. Richard Fuller delivered an illustrated lecture at the Boston Art club on the full-length life-size statue of Apollo, recently unearthed at Cherchel, Algeria. Mr. Fuller was visiting that locality at the time of the discovery of the ancient statue of Apollo, which contained the figure of the sun god—virtually complete and in a perfect state of preservation. He saw the statue after it had been set up in the home of the farmer who had discovered it and described it as being undoubtedly a Greek copy of an original bronze statue by Phidias, who lived in the fifth century, B. C. He drew a comparison between this newly found Apollo and the Apollo Belvedere and declared the former to be superior.

For Cheaper Food. The Rhode Island conservation commission reports that there are 400 unutilized farms and large areas which have never been cultivated at all, although they are very close to the market. Yet Rhode Island is celebrated as the most "thickly settled" state in the union. The possibilities of this country in the production of food have not begun to be exhausted; the limitations are nowhere in sight, observes the Springfield Republican. All that we need to make cheaper food is more people willing to till the land.

RECEIVING INQUIRIES AS TO CELEBRATIONS

Many Letters From Persons Desiring
Information of the Coming Happenings July 3d, 4th and 5th Are Received.

Letters of inquiry from all parts of the country have been received from persons desiring information as to what is doing in Janesville on July 3d, 4th and 5th, have been received by the chairman of the celebration committee, Carl Hucholz. The news that Janesville is going to celebrate for three days during the state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans, has evidently been sent out broadcast and the letters are the result.

Meanwhile the committee is making arrangements for the raising of the funds needed to insure the success of the celebration and thus far the results have been most flattering. Several subscriptions for bonds of a hundred dollars and over, Crook's Brewery heading the list with $150 subscription, and numerous ones for fifty and twenty-five, have been obtained by the finance committee, which is headed by John Palmer, city secretary and treasurer of the committee.

The bond proposition, with the utmost certainty of securing all or a most substantial rebate of the money subscribed, has struck the popular chord. The scheme, as worked out by the committee, is to borrow the four thousand dollars needed, without interest, from the citizens, the funds obtained from the concessions, the sham battle and other incidentals. It is certain, being more than enough to pay back all money raised, dollar for dollar.

It is almost certain that the band made will be one of the most important features of the celebration. The committee in charge of this part of the work report having received from nine of the leading musical organizations in the southern part of the state and it is probable that at least seven will be here from Monday until Wednesday to furnish music for the parades, dances and band concerts planned.

That the state encampment of the Spanish War Veterans will bring at least a thousand delegates and members of different camps is known from replies received by the departmental adjutant, Carl Hucholz, in reply to the general order sent out last week calling the convention for July 3d, 4th and 5th.

Invitations have been sent to every company comprising the First regiment of Wisconsin National Guard, and it is probable that at least ten of the twelve companies will accept the invitation and be present to take part in the parade and sham battle which will be the two big features of July 4th.

"NO SPEEDING" SAYS EDGERTON COUNCIL

City Fathers Fix on 12 Miles An Hour
As Speed Limit—Other Notices
From the Tobacco City.

Edgerton, May 17.—The common council met last night in regular session, and while important matters were up for consideration, which were of great interest to the general public, nearly two hours' time was consumed in discussing the speed limit of automobiles inside the corporation limits. After a lengthy discussion the council ordained the limit to be twelve miles per hour. This the council thinks is fast enough.

Personal.

Attorney J. M. Clancy of Stoughton was here on business yesterday.

J. G. Patterson, at one time a newspaper man of this city, spent several days here this week.

J. J. Leary went to Madison this morning on business.

William Barnes made a flying trip to Milwaukee Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Toubert were in town last night from Janesville, making the trip by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook welcome the arrival of a son, born Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martinus Hanson of the town of Fulton, had a daughter born to them Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. August Stark, who were called here from Louisiana, Wis., to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Charles Wisnow, will remain to spend the week among their numerous relatives here.

BOYS' BIBLE CLASSES AT CLINTON HAD A BANQUET

Members of Y. M. C. A. Study Classes
Enjoyed Feast in Their Rooms
Last Evening.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Clinton, May 17.—The Y. M. C. A. boys, who were members of the Bible class, had a banquet at their rooms last night, and had as their guests Rev. Clyde Meeker of Chicago, who presented the boys with their Bible study diplomas for last year's work; W. H. Wones, state secretary of boys' work; and the teachers of this winter's classes, Rev. F. C. Shaffer, and H. A. Moehlmann. The third teacher, E. Seaman, was out of town and could not attend. Rev. Meeker arrived at six o'clock last evening and returned at 8:30 this morning.

Personal Items.

A. H. McMeister of Rockford, was in town yesterday.

J. A. Hamilton and G. C. Graves motored to Holst, Monday, in Mr. Hamilton's car, which they left at the garage to have a new magnet and rear axle put in.

Dr. C. W. Collier, E. H. Tabbs and N. H. Buckley went to Delavan, Sunday, to attend the funeral of E. S. Phillips. Mr. Phillips was a member of this lodge of Masons.

Mr. Nagel of Chicago, who formerly worked here in the tin shop of the Creamery Supply Mfg. Co., was here over Sunday calling on old friends and renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. P. Garvin and a lady friend of Delavan were here Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Garvin expect to move back to Clinton, July 1st, and occupy their old stand, now occupied by Mr. Dugdale.

Geo. W. Ames left yesterday for Colorado Springs, Colo., to look after his ranch near there.

Clinton was the scene for quite a number of gunnery warblers, Sunday. Not less than five registered at a local hotel and in no less than five minutes the local warblers were aware of their identity and their mission. The warblers had the creek all to themselves all day, Sunday.

Mrs. M. P. Treat had the misfortune to fall down the back steps Monday afternoon and very badly sprain and bruise herself. At first it was thought by the attending physician that a couple of ribs were fractured, but later developments proved this not to be the case. Mrs. Treat has been in poor health and her advanced age makes the shock very severe to her.

Miss Cordelia Lovell Latham, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. L. L. Cory, and family, and who has captivated Clinton audiences by her beautiful singing, left this morning for St. Paul.

George Torneau of Freeport, Ill., was here yesterday.

Mrs. George Woodard of Elletts, Texas, is here visiting her aunts, Mrs. J. R. Holmer, and Mrs. Flora Dicker.

man. The articles made in the manual training department of our high school will be exhibited, Friday and Saturday, in the large windows of O. L. Woodward's drug store. H. A. Moehlmann has offered sixty dollars in gold, in four prizes, for the best work done by the students.

MILTON.

Milton, May 17.—Massachusetts Colored Jubilee Singers gave a concert at Village hall last evening and Picketts Prohibition orchestra appeared at the same place this afternoon.

H. E. Holmes has about a thousand chickens and they are doing nicely.

Mrs. Abbie Reed of New York City is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Bond.

Mrs. L. M. Babcock and daughters of Jackson Center, Ohio, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crumb.

H. D. Weaver and wife of Washington, D. C., visited Mrs. W. H. Weaver this week. Mr. Weaver, an old time Milton boy, is now employed in one of the departments at Washington and is an old veteran.

Valparaiso Harbor Shallowed.

According to Mr. H. D. Curtis, says the Army and Navy Gazette, the harbor of Valparaiso is now ten feet less deep than it was before the earthquake of August 16, 1906; the movement seems to have been mainly vertical.

The sunlight is glittering on the water. The breeze is whispering among the trees. The big fish with just a little movement of their tails are dreaming in the shadows of the great rocks.
I wonder how far I can cast. Work grows mighty dull and tiresome in the spring of the year. What's the use of trying to do all of the work. There will be plenty of work when I'm gone anyway. I guess I'll have to look over my fishing tackle.

VICTORY FOR UNIONS.

"This ruling upholds the contention of organized labor that it has a right to boycott; that is, to give or withhold their patronage with regard to any article of manufacture. The question has now been settled by the highest court in the land and is a victory for organized labor."

"It is a significant fact that on the same day the highest court in the land gives the right of free speech and free press to the people, President Taft is quoted in the daily press as contradicting that right," continued President Fitzpatrick in commenting on the reports of the President's speech touching on the rights of letter carriers to join the American Federation of Labor.

"Why does President Taft hold a card of membership in the Steam Shoelace Union if he thinks affiliation with trade unions made up of employees of private concerns is not a proper course for the letter carriers to take?"

"Other government employees, such as machinists, have been and are affiliated with their respective unions, and never have they gone on strike, or used in seeking betterment of their conditions such means as are used by the members of the same unions employed by private interests."

"These paragraphs represent the opinion of John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, on the recent supreme court decision. His criticism of President Taft is based on a recent speech in which he objected to postal clerks affiliating with labor unions. This is the sentence referred to:

"Government employees are a privileged class, whose work is necessary to carry on the government. To allow government employees to use such instruments (the strike and the boycott) is to recognize revolution as a lawful means of securing an increase in compensation for one class, and that a privileged class, at the expense of all the public."

"The Inter Ocean, in commenting, says:

"That the President should feel called upon to explain why government employees cannot be permitted to form labor unions, and join with other labor unions in strikes, shows what loose thinking, and what ignorance of the fundamental principles of government, pass current in many places."

"The government of the United States has the right, under certain conditions, to call upon every citizen to do whatever work it requires to be done, even though to do it requires the citizen to lay down his life."

"The government's work must be done, and without quibbling over the money rewards involved. Else there is an end of government; anarchy comes, and an end of the republic. Else the nation ceases to exist."

"The citizen entering government employment acquires certain special privileges and pledges himself to special duties in return. His pay is commonly larger than for the same work in private employment, and it is beyond the reach of creditors. And he takes an oath of allegiance, express or implied, to serve the government as against all others. For him to refuse to serve the government is of the nature of military mutiny and savors of treason."

"Mr. Taft does well to utter his warning. To permit government employees to combine on the labor union plan and to use labor union methods to raise their pay is to ignore the fundamental principles of all government, to invite the overthrow of all government, and to sanction rebellion against the nation."

It is not at all likely that the government will be disturbed by union organization within the ranks of its employees, but the decision inspires the heart of the labor agitator with confidence, and encourages the boycott and the picket."

While the mayor of Chicago is attempting to protect men in the right to work, this decision comes as a wet blanket, and the men responsible for deeds of depredation become more active, as was noticed shortly after the decision was rendered, when a gang of sluggers attempted to drive out a lot of workmen just across the street from the chief of police office."

The law of necessity is the most potent force yet discovered, in regulating this class of evils, and if the season of depression which is looming up, develops, the demand for work will far exceed all other demands."

Inasmuch as Wisconsin has adopted through its legislature the "Recall, Initiative and Referendum," the following terse definition of the term by the Chicago Tribune, in answer to a query, is of interest:

"The recall is a process by which elective officers may be ousted and recalled by a popular vote. Two western mayors have been recalled during recent months. The initiative is either a right reserved by the people of a state in their constitution to originate propositions to be enacted into law by the legislature and ratified by the vote of the people, or that giving a number of voters in a community the right to cause an election to be held upon a permitted question, and if the vote be in favor of a change, then the new condition to obtain under a previously passed statute of the state legislature. The referendum is a process by which laws enacted by the state legislature are referred to the people for approval."

More briefly defined, it is office with a string attached."

The supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case recognizes a "reasonable combination." In other words there may be such a thing as a good trust. The Standard Oil company will change its name and organization, but in no other way will be affected by the ruling. Whether trusts are good or bad, they will continue to exist, for concentration is the watchword, and that means combination of capital and effort."

The new primary law in Illinois makes it a point of honor for a candidate to give a voter a sign, during a campaign, on the ground that it is a bribe. Nothing is said about beer or whiskey. An effort was made to prohibit candidates advertising in newspapers. The free and independent voter seems to be an irresponsible party requiring all the safeguards of a feeble-minded constituency."

It remains to be seen whether Mexico, without Diaz, is capable of self-government. The Mexican people lack thrift and ambition and their code of morals is not of the highest standard. The success of a republic depends on the ability of the people to govern themselves. The United States is still in the experimental stage."

Thirty-five thousand Minnesota farmers were so much opposed to Canadian reciprocity that they contributed $300 and sent a delegation to Washington to fight the measure. That was a tax of about a penny each and if it expresses opposition, is not very valuable from a financial standpoint."

Heart to Heart Talks.

THE UPPER BERTH.

Glory be!

The Pullman Car company has reduced the price of its upper berths.

The cut was made, it is true, at the end of an order from the powers that be, and the reduction is not as big as a barn door, but it will do.

Who would not climb the five steps of a ladder for perfectly good money?

We took the shelf heretofore as a substitute, but now many of us will go up of choice because—

A half dollar is 50 cents.

Have you never clung to the upper, like a wrecked mariner to his storm tossed raft, through the weary vigils of the night, the lurch of the car making the plane of your recumbency first this bias and then that, the toy of the track and in instant fear of being shot like a projectile through the circumambient atmosphere?

In that hour what was your chiefest regret?

Was it not the memory of the extortion paid at the Pullman ticket window as the price of your parous voyage?

Herein was your grievance?

Your grouse as a guest of the Hotel Pullman was not so much that you had to go to a cot in the top hall, but that, occupying the place next the rafters, you paid the same price as the lodger on the parlor floor.

Moreover—

Many a time and oft, with the price in your inside pocket, you have endured the martyrdom of the callous threatening upholstery of the chair car or doubled your indignant legs to the stolid furniture of the day coach, and yet—

Rising in the early gloaming felt that you had not sufficiently punished a greedy corporation.

But now—

Shall we not gladdeningly go to our left on high, chat in a billowsome ditty to the accompaniment of the chattering rail? Testing upon our marked down baggage, shall we not accentuate the rhythm of our evening snores?

Verily,

And neither shall the pillow, alfalfa stuffed, nor the exchequer mattress, nor the scant horse blanket, disturb our dreams of the discomfiture of the Pullmans.

What a patient people are we Americans! We are like the docile mule that takes the load for years—until he gets a chance to kick.

By WALT MASON.

O laugh and be joyous! Don't fret and annoy us by telling your troubles—we've some of our own; we don't want to nurse or pet or rehearse them, and dreary old BE CHEERFUL gronches should let us alone! We try to keep smiling in manner beguiling, and just when our faces are stretched into shape, some gloomy old duffer starts making us suffer by telling us stories of horses and cranes. We try to be sunny and cheery and funny, we'd kick up our heels like as many bay steers, but always some heavy old state with a story of trouble and anguish lays siege to our ears. Our woe—we'd forget 'em; no more would we wet 'em with streams of the bring from sorrowing eyes, if they were exclusive; but people ostrich-like are loading us down with their own stock of sighs. We'd bear our own burden and strive for the garden of peace that should come when the battle is over; but always some duffer'll come up with his trouble, and stand and expound it until we are sore."

FORMER JANSVILLE RESIDENT DROWNED IN MEXICAN RIVER

Word Received That L. C. O'Brien Is Dead Received This Morning By Relatives.

L. C. O'Brien, for many years a prominent business man in Jansville and who for the past twelve years has dealt in lands extensively, was drowned at Tampico, Mexico, yesterday. Word to this effect was received in Jansville this morning by relatives and his brother, O. E. O'Brien of this city, who has been managing the Chicago office of his brother, left today for Mexico to bring the remains back with him.

Mr. O'Brien left Jansville nearly a dozen years ago and dealt for several years, extensively in northern Wisconsin lands, handling considerable of the Gates County tracts. Later he went into the Dakota and western land business with offices in Chicago and for the past three years has handled Mexican lands.

While a resident of Jansville he conducted an implement and agricultural machinery store on Court street bridge. He has not been in Jansville for the past nine months, having been almost constantly in Mexico during that period. His mother, Mrs. Eliza O'Brien and a sister, Miss Cora O'Brien live at 1020 West Bluff street, a brother O. E. O'Brien makes his home in this city, but has been in charge of the Chicago office for some time. Another brother Al is a prominent attorney at Denver, Colorado, and a third brother, William, makes his home at Carthage, Wisconsin.

No details of the manner of Mr. O'Brien's death have been received and it is not known how the accident occurred. He was not married and about fifty-five years of age. It is probable that the remains will be brought here for interment.

WILL SEE PICTURES ON LIFE OF ROMANS

Interesting Slides to Be Shown at High School, Secured by Latin Teachers' Association.

Pictures on Roman life will tomorrow afternoon be thrown on the curtain at the local high school for the benefit of the students of the Latin language and of Roman history. The pictures are very interesting and instructive. They were secured by the State Latin Teachers' association of which the local high school teachers are members. There are in all about one hundred and fifty pictures and so as to be able to see them to all the students of Roman life, Prof. Duell has arranged the following program. The pictures will be divided into two divisions, one of which will see the pictures during the fifth and sixth periods. The rest will see them during the seventh and eighth periods. This arrangement was made so as to avoid as many conflicts with daily classes as possible.

DIVORCE ACTION WAS FILED THIS MORNING

Mary C. Babcock Seeks Divorce From Henry A. Babcock—Case Settled Outside of Court This Morning.

Papers have been filed in the circuit court in the action for divorce brought by Mary C. Babcock against her husband, Henry A. Babcock, both parties residing in Evansville. In the complaint, the plaintiff charges her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment, alleging that on several occasions he has struck her and called her names, using abusive terms. It also states that on one occasion he attempted to smother her with a pillow, and that upon another he tried to choke her to death. The papers were filed this morning.

Judge Grimm spent the morning at the court house but nothing of importance was done in the circuit court. The action of Charles Mohr against the Advance Publishing company, which was scheduled to be heard this morning, the parties came to an agreement and a settlement was made out of court. The plaintiff asked damages for alleged work and services for which it was claimed that he had never been reimbursed.

GREAT VIOLINIST IN A CHARMING RECITAL

Francis MacMillan Held Audience Spell Bound At Myers Theatre Last Evening With Grand Program.

It is a certain impression of reserve force which he creates that is in part responsible for the fame of Francis MacMillan whose violin recital was listened to by a fair-sized audience at the Myers Theatre last evening. Possessed of youth, but with perfection in technique and backed by the fact that there is a world of power which he holds in readiness, but does not put forth, he worked and with a bearing which engendered his work a hundred fold, he took the audience with him from the first time he drew his bow over the strings in the Concerto of Mendelssohn until the last notes of Mendelssohn's rhapsody concerto had died away. In the second number in Francis MacMillan's recital, the violinist played the "Capriccio" of Giuseppe Verdi with a power and technique which was perfect.

The harmony and delicate sympathy between Mr. MacMillan and his pianist, Gino Anghel, was notable and was responsible in a great measure for the success of the recital. MacMillan has achieved fame and is daily rising to the heights in his art. These people who were charmed by his playing last evening may consider themselves fortunate.

A Fine Entertainment.

Sara Ruth Hutes, who will give a recital at the Baptist church, Friday evening, has just returned from the Pacific coast where she has been filling a return engagement of her Lyceum dates. From now until Sept. 1 every date is taken for Chautauque work. Miss Hutes will sing and the orchestra will render several selections. Admission 25 cents.

ALLEGED SWINDLE GAME WAS WORKED

Le Roy Hammes, Arrested This Morning Charged With Giving Business College Currency For Real Money.

Le Roy Hammes, a young man who has been employed in this city as a truck driver, was arrested this morning by Officer Sam Brown as he stepped from the night o'clock interurban car and put in the jail today and will be arraigned on the alleged charge of obtaining money under false pretenses tomorrow morning. The complaining witness in the case is a brakeman named Bert McGregor, who alleges that Hammes passed off a "business college" ten dollar bill on him in exchange for two five dollar bills in real currency. McGregor is out of town today and the case will be held over until tomorrow when McGregor will probably appear against Hammes. The offense, according to the police, was committed last night while Hammes and McGregor were together, Hammes asking for change and giving the "phony" bill. McGregor later reported the matter to Officer Thomas Morrissey and together they hunted for Hammes, who it is alleged skipped away and went to the Railroad Hotel at the new yards on an interurban car. Officer Morrissey and McGregor searched for Hammes for several hours, but were unable to find him. When brought to the police station this morning, the young man was searched and two five dollar bills were found in a watch pocket, a business college currency bill for ten dollars, similar to the one passed on McGregor, and some small change. The youth denied the charge at first, but later told Chief of Police George Appleby that he gave McGregor the "phony" bills in fun and forgot to return McGregor's money.

SCOLDED PASTORS OF WICKED CITY

Ministerial Union of La Crosse Rebuked For Preaching Creeds That Conform With Parishioners' Desires.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

La Crosse, Wis., May 17.—"If any of you ministers charged to recognize Christ in the front row, how many of you would for your human flock? This question by Rev. Samuel McKee before the La Crosse Preachers' union caused consternation, a pause and then lots of silence, followed by another pause. At the conclusion of the minister's address, in which he arraigned pastors who apologize for the gospel and seek to make the creed conform with the convenience of parishioners, the ministers unanimously voted Rev. McKee's speech one of the most "interesting in the history of the Union."

NATION MENACED BY A NEW PERIL

MATERIALISM AND PAGANISM
SERIOUS PROBLEMS, ROOSE-VELT TELLS CLERGYMEN.

URGES THEM TO ACTIVITY

Former President Speaks to 1,000
Pastors at New York Meeting and Vehemently Denounces Dynamite
Warfare on Capitalists' Buildings.

New York, May 17.—About 1,000 clergymen, members and guests of the Federation of Churches, assembled in their hall in the Metropolitan Life building, heard former President Theodore Roosevelt earnestly assert that the welfare of the United States was seriously menaced by materialism and paganism.

He declared that men who blow up the buildings of capitalists at the behest of labor leaders are murderers, and that unless something is done to remedy present conditions, the results will be dire.

Urges Ministers to Get Busy.
He informed the ministers that they ought to get together irrespective of creed and see if they can't do something about it.

The clergymen were members of the federation of churches and their guests. The gathering was in many ways remarkable, as it included the most prominent divines of every denomination in the greater city, all bent upon getting together in a common cause, irrespective of denomination or creed. Jew, gentile, white and black, catholicized, and Catholics and Protestants fraternized.

Speaks With Freedom.
The subject of the former president's address was "The Church and Righteousness." "With the reporters absent I can speak with great freedom," he said. "I want to say some things that the public would not understand. It would not be the wrong idea, where you will be certain to catch the points I am going to make. I am going to speak plainly. If Wall Street reads what I am going to say it will misunderstand."

He then declared that the country was today in great danger because of its tendency toward materialism and paganism. By materialism he meant concrete forms of wealth and power. This had for result was overwhelming and would end in disaster unless curbed. He did not confine the list of power to capitalists alone, for labor in his address he had some things to say concerning labor leaders and their attempts to force more than their due from capitalists.

Country is Menaced.
"This materialism and paganism will ruin this country if we are not careful," he said. "That is our greatest danger today, and it is the first duty of you gentlemen to get together and take steps to remedy this condition. You must do it, regardless of your creeds or your denominations." It was while touching on the labor problem that the colonel denounced the dynamiters and the dynamiting outrages in a vehement outburst.

HEAR STORIES OF OLD TIMES.

Historical Societies of Middle West in Session at Chicago.

Chicago, May 17.—The Mississippi Valley Historical association began its yearly meeting today in the rooms of the Evanston Historical society, and with it are meeting the Ohio Historical association of Illinois and the North Central History Teachers' association. Clark E. Carr, president of the state society, presided over the opening session this afternoon, and the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Joseph E. Paden of Evanston.

At succeeding sessions of the societies details of the Fort Dearborn massacre will be related by Prof. M. M. Quaife; the myths of the American Indians will be discussed by Prof. Orin G. Libby of the University of North Dakota; Prof. William E. Dodd of the University of Chicago will read a paper of Robert J. Walker; George B. Merriam of Madison, Wis., will tell of old steamboat days on the Mississippi; and other equally interesting talks will be made. Prof. Benjamin P. Shambaugh of the University of Iowa, president of the Mississippi Valley association, will deliver his address tomorrow afternoon.

BIG PEACE MEET IN SIGHT.

Arrangements Completed for Conference May 28 at Atlanta, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., May 17.—Arrangements, practically have been completed for a peace conference to be held in Atlanta Sunday, May 28. Much interest is being manifested in the movement and local committees as a result of numerous responses to invitations are making elaborate preparations to accommodate several thousand people.

Indiana G. A. R. in Camp.

Richmond, Ind., May 17.—The thirty-second annual encampment of the Grand Army, department of Indiana, assembled in this city today and large numbers of veterans and members of their families are here. Late March is officer of the day and William H. Laughman is officer of the guard, both to serve during the three days of the encampment. Department Commander Alexander P. Ashbury is in command, and tomorrow will review the annual parade.

A tiny electric device is now used to test the action of the heart.

CHURCHMEN TO MEET ON PIER.

Presbyterian General Assembly to Open Session at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 17.—Holding its sessions on the steel pier, as close to the ocean as they can get in safety and comfort, the Presbyterian church of the United States will open its one hundred and twenty-third general assembly here. One thousand delegates, representing all parts of the United States, and a large number of distinguished visitors will, it is expected, be in attendance.

The program of the ten days' session has been completed and promises to be the most notable in many years. A wide range of subjects will be discussed, including home and foreign missions, temperance, Christian education, immigration, Sabbath observance, evangelistic, church extension, church benevolence and ministerial relief work. In addition to the meetings at the pier there will be meetings next Sunday evening at First Presbyterian church and Olivet Presbyterian church.

TO SETTLE BORDER LAND CLAIM.

Ownership of $7,000,000 Worth of Property is Involved.

El Paso, Tex., May 17.—To decide the ownership between nations of $7,000,000 worth of property now on the American side of the Rio Grande river, in the southern section of El Paso, an international commission met here.

The land is known as the Chumizal strip and jurisdiction is held by the United States, but Mexico lays claim to it on the ground that the river changed from its original course in 1852 by avulsion and that the property thus thrown on the American side is Mexican territory. The board consists of Gen. Anson Mills, representing the United States; Boltran y Puga, representing Mexico, and Judge E. LeBlond of Canada, sitting as umpire.

BROKER WILLS NURSE FORTUNE.

Housekeeper of Walter E. Duryea
Oliven Bulk of Estate.

New York, May 17.—By the will of Walter E. Duryea, the crippled athlete and broker, the bulk of his fortune, estimated at $2,500,000, goes to Miss Eleanor Pergrino, a trained nurse who acted as his housekeeper for the last twelve years of his life. She is given $50,000 outright, $50,000 in trust, a house in Montclair, N. J., and all the residue of the estate after certain legacies have been paid. Her total share is thought to be worth $1,500,000.

Walter Duryea broke his back in diving in August, 1890. He spent the rest of his life in a harness.

U. S. OFFERS $50,000,000 BONDS.

Will Give Preference to Small Bidders in Panama Canal Issue.

Washington, May 17.—Secretary MacVough invited popular subscriptions to a $50,000,000 issue of government bonds to reimburse the treasury general fund for expenditure on account of the Panama canal.

Treasury officials expect the loan will be largely oversubscribed, and in distributing the new securities the government's announced intention is to give preference to smaller bidders. The new securities will bear three per cent. interest, payable quarterly; will be free from all national, state or municipal taxation, and will be in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000. They will be dated June 1, 1911, and will be payable in 50 years. By provision of law the new bonds will not be available to national banks as the basis of circulation.

TART WIRES CONFEDERATE VETS

First Greeting From Republican President is Cheered.

Little Rock, Ark., May 17.—The United Confederate Veterans, in their twenty-first reunion here, received a telegram of greeting from President Taft. It is the first message of this sort to be sent to a Confederate reunion by a Republican president. The veterans crowded about the platform to hear the message read. A profound silence prevailed during the reading, and at the close cheers were generously given, mingled with shouts of "Tell him that we know we were right!"

A committee will send the president a telegram giving him a vote of thanks for his message.

INDICT ELEVEN IN OHIO PROBE.

Three Legislators Are Caught in Bribery Net by Jury.

Columbus, O., May 17.—The names of three state legislators who have been indicted by the grand jury which has been investigating the legislative bribery scandal were made public. These are Representatives A. Clark Lowry of Lawrence county and Owen J. Evans of Stark county and State Senator E. T. Crawford of Carroll county. Eleven indictments in all were returned by the grand jury, but since the other names have not been made public it is not certain that there are any legislators among them. The indicted men went to the courthouse here and gave bond.

Commercial School Convention.

Des Moines, Ia., May 17.—Managers of and teachers in commercial schools of the middle west are here in large numbers to attend the annual convention of their associations, which began today with that of the Western School Managers' association and the National Private School Managers' association. These continue until tomorrow evening, when the Central Commercial Teachers' association will start its meeting with a reception and musical, at which Senator Lutz Young will deliver an address.

Because of Their Uniform.

Tucson, Ariz., May 17.—Capt. Duncan H. Major, Eighteenth Infantry, temporarily in command of Whipple barracks, Prescott, Ariz., and Capt. E. O. Ord, U. S. A., retired, have signified their intention of bringing suit in the United States district court at Prescott against the manager of a Prescott skating rink who denied them admission to the place because they were in the uniform of United States army officers. United States District Attorney Morrison of Tucson will be asked to prepare the complaint.

JAILER BEATS UP HORSE THIEF.

Crook Makes Futile Attempt to Escape From Jail Prison.

Joilet, Ill., May 17.—Walter Steinmiller of Chicago, held here on numerous charges of horse stealing, was insolent in the county jail, as the result of a terrible beating administered to him by Jailer John Willis, whom he had attacked with a gas pipe with intention of escaping.

Michigan Episcopallians Meet.

Detroit, Mich., May 17.—Celebration of the holy communion in the newly completed St. Paul's cathedral was the opening event of the seventy-second annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan today. Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts blessed the cathedral and preached the sermon, after which Bishop Williams of Michigan delivered his annual address. In this the bishop paid tribute to the memory of those of his clergy and laity who have died during the past year.

Shot "Trust" Under Fire.

Montreal, May 17.—A complete investigation of the allegation that the United Shoe Machinery company is a trust, "operating in restraint of trade," assumed as the result of the unusual decision of the court of appeals upholding the order of Justice Cannon, directing an investigation under the Canadian labor and trade law.

Balzac.
Balzac dreamed of Eugene Grandet and Ursule Mironet in the mean house of mean aspect where Doctor Cabanes lectures. He used to shut the window shutters to exclude external sounds and objects, drink coffee from the tin pot and console himself with his imagination. From sun-down to sunrise no sound could be heard save the scratching of pen on paper. He more frequently than not worked thus for eighteen out of the twenty-four hours. This painter of women knew very little about them, but his gift of divination and his deductive power served him in good stead. No other author ever scrutinized their hearts as did this hermit or brought to light with the same truthfulness the treasures of delicate wealth, of unselfish devotion and of delicate sentiment wrapped up in them.—Paris Letter to London Truth.

BASEBALL NOTES.
Pitchers Moore, Beebe and Rowan are all shooting "am over" for the Quakers in classy fashion.
They call "Ping" Bodie of the White Sox a fence-buster, and he looks all of that sure enough.

Jim McGuire, former manager of the Cleveland team, is back on his old job of scouting for the Naps.

The Rochester team, champions of the Eastern League, are right out in front and hunting for another pennant.

Gregg, Graney and Griggs of the Cleveland Naps. Makes you think of a turn in some vaudeville show.

Captain Charley McLaughlin of the Harvard team is a clever ball player. He can play any position on the nine, even to pitching.

John Cieslewski, a brother of the famous "Giant Killer," has signed with the San Antonio Texas League team. He is an outfielder.

Dodo Criss of the Browns is a better pitcher than he is a pitcher. He has worked in the box two games this season and lost both of them.

Despite a wet, cold spring and a cut in the salary limit, the Virginia League teams are moving right along, and doing business at the same old stand.

It looks as if the teams in the second division of the National League have little or no chance to break through and enjoy the company of the elite in the first division.

George Mullin of the Tigers says he will have an operation performed on his nose after he has lost a game. George doesn't fancy the surgery stuff, hence his winning right along.

"Huge" Raymond is pitching great ball for the Giants. If the erratic Arthur sticks to the soda fountain there is nothing to it but his name in the baseball hall of fame.

Manager Harry Wofford of the Oakland Pacific Coast League team has signed Outfielder Zachar, last season with the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals.

WITH THE BOXERS.
Jim Flynn putting Al Kaufman down for the count was a big surprise to the boxing fans.

Tommy O'Toole, the Philadelphia lightweight, was spotted in a baseball game recently and it will be several weeks before he can box again.

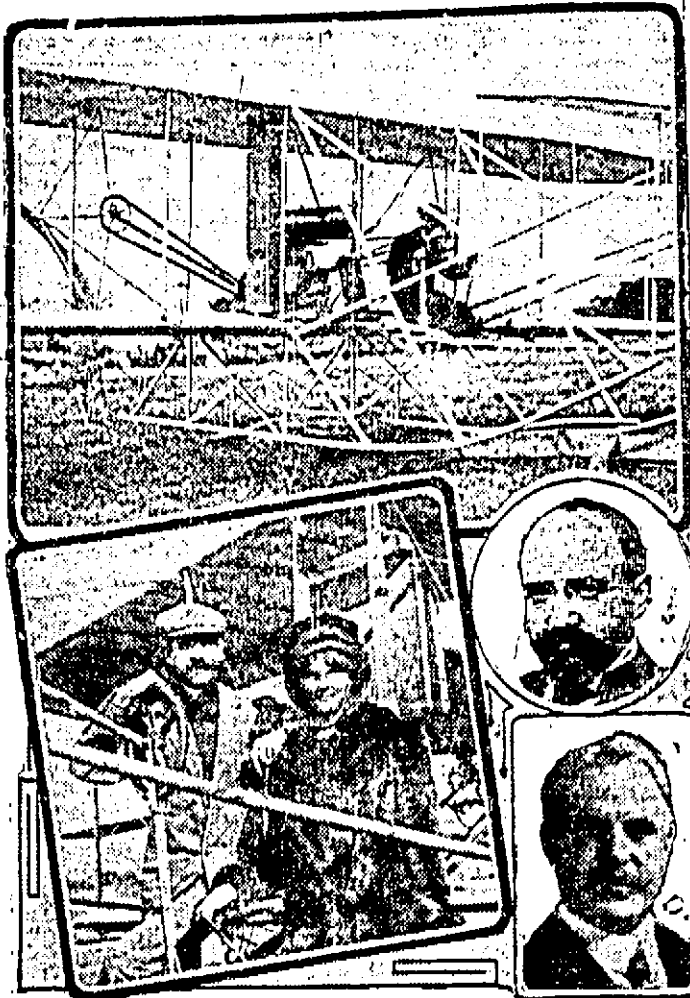

But Nelson says that he has not signed to box Jack Redmond or any other boxer. But he is going to a camp in Maine and try and get in condition.

Promoter McIntosh has signed Bill Papke and Jim Sullivan, middleweight champion of England, for a tangle to take place in London the last week of this month.

AERO MEET FOR CHICAGO.

Two prospective entrants in aviation meet. At top, Wilbur Wright. Below, Glen Curtiss and his wife. At right, Max Pam. Below, Edward T. Wilder of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Chicago, Ill.—Chicago's lake front in August will be the scene of one of the greatest aviation meets of the year. A fund of $100,000 is assured to start preliminary work on the exhibition; the total budget of expenses will be nearly a quarter of a million, including $100,000 in prizes.

Tentative dates have been selected and unless the committee on arrangements should change its mind the meet will take place eight days, beginning August 12. Twenty aviators, including the Wright Brothers and Glen Curtiss, have agreed to come. Machines of every known make will be in action throughout the meet.

Max Pam, of steel and iron interests, and Edward T. Wilder of the Chicago Association of Commerce have been prominent in the preliminary arrangements. Harold F. McCormick has been selected as chairman of the general committee.

Generally.

Every little while the public gets greatly excited over the discovery of a poem by some dead poet who did not consider the thing worth being included in his collected works. Generally we find, in spite of the public's hurrah over the discovery, that the dead poet exercised pretty good judgment.

A Suggestion.

I cannot think but that the world would be better and brighter if our teachers would dwell on the Duty of Happiness as well as the Happiness of Duty.—Sir John Lubbock.

Face to Face With God.

We are to be grateful for anything that will bring us to spiritual reflection and noble aims. Some have more clearly seen the shining upward way in the dark night of bereavement, even as Jacob saw the celestial ladder. He is always ready to help us over the hard places. Nothing is more interesting to the parents than their little one's first attempts to walk; he falls so often, but still keeps trying. If he could walk perfectly all at once, their love would not be so tender. The earnestness of his weakness makes him inexpressibly dear. If we could follow perfectly, we would never know how tender, how sympathetic, how infinitely loving our heavenly father is. The more we need his love the more he manifests it. What a wonderful thing it is that we can dare to try to follow him. We could not begin to follow God if he were not our father.

The Difference.

A woman of work sweeps everything before her; a woman of fashion, everything behind her.—Judge.

Overwhelmed by Fumes of Spirits.

Exciting scenes were witnessed recently at a fire in London which broke out in premises owned by wine merchants. The fire had obtained a firm grip when the firemen arrived. Locating the seat of the outbreak, smoke helmets were donned and a powerful hydrant was soon at work. Then followed a series of remarkable incidents. Officers and men of both fire brigade and salvage corps who had passed into the basement were overwhelmed by the fumes of spirits and wines arising from a mass of shattered bottles. One by one the men fell, and comrades who went to their rescue suffered the same experience. It was only after almost superhuman efforts that the men were rescued, sixteen officers and men being dragged from the basement. A number remained unconscious for a considerable time.

Dream Superstitions.

According to the superstition a wedding in a dream is a sign of a funeral, a birth is a sign of death and a death means a wedding.

The Heart Filled With Christ.

One of the gifts most to be desired, because the world so much needs it, is that of seeing the bright side of everything and the best side of every body. It is the crowning grace of Christian character; for it is the love that "hopeth all things, believeth all things, endureth all things," and never faileth. It is the spirit of Christ in its fullness. It is to be obtained by complete consecration to him, constant communion with him, and close following in his footsteps. Nothing is so needed, nothing so helpful, nothing so radiant and hopeful as the sunshine that he alone can impart. This love is the bond of perfectness. It is the balm for all troubles, the healing of all hurts, the glory that transforms all discouragements into ministering angels. In heaven light and love and joy are one; so are they also in the heart that here on earth is filled with Christ.

Little Bed-Time Tales By EDITH HAVENS

How the Creeping Ivy Won

THE kind hearted business man loved flowers and so he ordered a carpenter to build a cunning window garden box just outside his office window, away up near the top of the great brick building. When it was finished he planted within the box pretty nasturtiums and a beautiful red geranium, and the little dash of color seemed to brighten the whole building.

One day, as a gentle breeze lazily rocked the geranium to and fro—sometimes far enough for it to take a peak out over the edge of the garden box—the geranium noticed something it had never seen before.

Away down below she saw a mass of beautiful green with little straggly lines of lighter green shooting up toward her.

"Oh, what is it?" she asked of her little friend, the breeze.

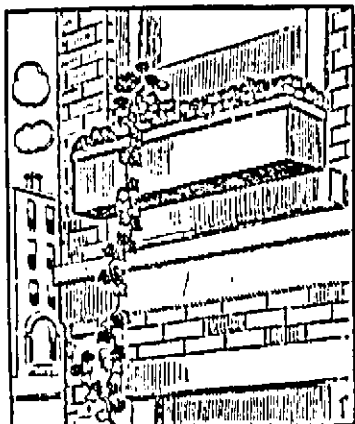

The little breeze did not answer at once; he kind of seemed as if he didn't want to.

"What is it—what is it?" asked the geranium again, determined to know. And then the little breeze spoke.

"I had decided not to tell you about it," he began, "because I thought it didn't want to tell you."

"Make me feel badly—why, what do you mean?" interrupted the geranium, puzzled.

"Well," began the little breeze, "that is the creeping ivy and he is very much in love with you and he has sworn that he is going to climb up to your garden box even if it takes a hundred years."

"He loves me," murmured the geranium with joy.

"Yes," answered the breeze, "but of course it is impossible for him to creep all the way up the side of the building to you. That is why I am sorry and it didn't want to tell you."

For a moment neither spoke. Then the geranium said quietly:

"Little breeze, nothing is impossible. I shall wait for the pretty ivy, no matter how long, and I am sure that he will reach me some day."

The geranium leaned out over the box and waved encouragingly down toward the ivy. The latter, overjoyed, trembled all over with joy.

"She has seen me—she knows I love her," he sang to himself.

Now this little ivy was one of those remarkable chaps who had learned the treasured secret that one can get anything they set out to get, providing they keep on trying and trying, and he made up his mind he was going to reach her some time and with this one thought in mind he struggled to grow each day just a bit closer to her.

Oh, it was very slow and sometimes the little ivy got real discouraged, but he still kept trying and trying. Day by day the faithful plant above him waved down at him and she, too, felt that the ivy would succeed.

Nearer and nearer crept the ivy and then one day he found that by reaching just a little harder he could get one finger on the window box. But the greatest day of all was the next day, for the ivy had accomplished his task.

Around the pretty geranium he twined his soft green arm and he pressed his little green cheek close to her beautiful red one.

"I knew I would succeed," whispered the ivy with a wonderful joy.

"I was sure of it, too," said the geranium as she cuddled up close to him.

How happy they were.

His Hope.

It seems that in baking beans Boston turns 10,000,000 quarts into 32,000,000 quarts, and the finished product is still admirably fitting. The genius that can make two quarts of beans materialize where there was but one quart has mastered a great point in dietary science and political economy.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

WELL, sighed the little stenographer lady, as she passed me a newspaper indicating three tiny lines which set forth the portentous fact that Theodosia So-and-so's parents were announcing her engagement to Roderick Bingham Such-and-Such—(they as it looks to me I've no doubt that agate type sounds out like seventy-point head lines done in scarlet to Roderick and Theodosia—"I hope this will teach me a lesson.")

"About what?" we naturally inquired.

"That it's three persons of your advanced age were thinking about their futures," suggested the want-to-be cynic.

Molly apparently didn't even hear this interpolation. "Well, my dear," she answered us, "Theodosia, as you know, is an old chum of mine and last time she came to visit me she told me all about her love affairs and asked my advice. There were two men and she said she wanted my honest opinion of them. And what do you think I did? I actually gave it. I told her I didn't see how she could have a moment's doubt. I said that one of them was a nice, clean looking, clean minded, whole souled, honest young chap that any girl would be proud to have love him and that the other was a perfect snail. I said he was the most totally and thoroughly uninteresting man I ever talked to, that his looks made me think of an undertaker, that I knew he was the kind of man that would never expect her to stray from her own hearth once she was married, and that I'd heard he was terribly close."

"Well, what of it," we queried. "Are you sorry she took your advice?"

"But she didn't," wailed Molly, aroused by her own graphic recital of her advice to the full horror of her offense. "She didn't; Roderick is the pill. How shall I ever face her again? She'll never forgive me and once we promised each other that whoever was married first would have the other for a bridesmaid, and I never was a bridesmaid; and now I don't suppose I'll ever be one."

"Oh, cheer up," urged the lady-who-always-knows-something. "She'll forget it."

"Sure," said the cynic. "Anyhow she probably just thinks you said all that because you were jealous and wanted to go in for Roderick what's-his-name, yourself."

This time Molly heard the cynic sufficiently to cast a withering glance in his direction.

"Maybe she will forget it," she accepted the lady's comfort, "but anyway I'll never give anyone advice about love affairs again. I think people just ask it so they can have the pleasure of not taking it. I won't express an honest opinion of any man to a girl even if he's only called on her once, because it's just my luck that if I do the next thing I know she'll be marrying him and hating me because I said he was a pill."

"Hereafter when anyone doubts on my telling them what I think I'll always say, 'He seems like a very nice man, but I don't really feel that I know him well enough to judge.'"

"Ruth," said the want-to-be-cynic, "tell Molly you have discovered a tender feeling in your heart for me and you'd like to know her honest opinion of me."

"Ruth," said the little stenographer lady, "you wouldn't force me to break my good resolutions so soon?"

MOTHER'S CORNER

By JULIA CHANDLER.

"All that I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my Mother."

—Abraham Lincoln.

THE DREAM OF THE LITTLE OLD LADY

THE Little Old Lady sat on the front porch, working buttonholes in a small frock. She heard the lullaby of her married daughter soothing The Youngest to sleep—the married daughter who was on a visit to her, and who was The Youngest of The Little Old Lady's Nine.

She lifted her faded eyes from the buttonholes and blinked at the summer sunshine, which filtered through the maple leaves and formed fantastic shadows on the lawn. The sunlight was strong and her eyes were very tired. The lids drooped over as slightly. Then The Little Old Lady opened them with a start and sat up very straight. She must finish the buttonholes in the little frock. She found the needle and wove it desperately into the cloth.

After a little the sunshine blended with the shadows on the lawn. The needle slipped from the wrinkled hand, and the silvery white hand nodded over the garment for the little lad who was going to sleep in the cool recesses of the house to the sound of his mother's lulling voice.

The dream went back over the forty-five years The Little Old Lady had made a home out of the big house. Again she was teaching The Nine their prayers; kissing their bumps; sending them to sleep with lullabies; nursing them through all the diseases to which children fall heir; shedding tears over them; saying prayers for them; seeing visions of their future greatness as they slept above their small beds. And now she saw The Nine as they were—grown; back to visit her with the grandchildren, and she was still giving of her strength to the children of her children, getting up at five in the morning.

Then the Mother of the youngest stood before her, made fairer by The Little Old Lady's dream.

"You are tired, dear mother of mine," she was saying tenderly. "You must come into the house for a nap. You shall not sit here and sew all the afternoon."

Then lovingly The Little Old Lady's Youngest put her arms around the stooping shoulders. Gently she took the sewing from the withered hands.

"For haven't I three of my own now?" she went on. "And don't I know of all the forty-five years of love and of service you have given?"

Then The Boy came in, flushed and happy. He was next to the Youngest.

"The only one unmarried."

"You shall go for a drive with me in the new trap down the cool river road," he was saying.

"But," said The Little Old Lady, uncertainly, "I thought you were to take Madge for the first drive in the new trap."

"No Madge for me when I can have my mother," he told her, proudly, and she felt her heart thumping furiously from sheer glory in his love and thoughtfulness for her.

Then she opened her eyes and blinked at the summer sunshine.

It was hard to gather her wits, but Madge was coming toward her from the open door. Madge was the oldest of the grandchildren, and she helped The Little Old Lady gather her wits.

"Don't make any noise, Grandma, when you go into the house," she admonished. "Mother is asleep."

The Little Old Lady hardly heard her. She was looking down the road. The boy was driving the new trap toward her with a flourish. Beside him sat the girl, Madge.

They did not notice The Little Old Lady as they passed the house.

She stooped for the little garment that had fallen to the floor when she had nodded. She wove the needle in and out with great haste, for she must make up the time she had slept and—dreamed.

Then she looked out at the sunshine and blinked.

"I am just an old sleepy-head," she said.

DISTORTED MENTAL VISION.

When a man has poor or defective eyesight he usually seeks a remedy. When he has distorted mental vision he usually either allows it to go uncorrected or he puts it to work in an acquisition. But either is bad for the man and bad for society. A man with poor eyesight is handicapped and particularly so if he refuses to do anything to remedy it. But the man with defective mental vision labors under a greater handicap—a handicap which affects society nearly as badly as it does him.

"Why not a tiny speck close to one vision blot out the glory of the world and leave only a margin by which we see the blot? I know no more so troublesome as self," says George Eliot.

And it is this little speck called self that causes much of the trouble in the world. It is the interference of the ego with our designs and those of others that causes the misunderstanding and the misunderstanding that destroys harmony. It is this tiny speck called self that makes one suspicious and unreasonable.

When men and women forget their own inclinations, they can do an effective work in whatever they may be engaged. They can plan and work out their campaigns with reasonable expectation of success, because their clear vision permits them to see the way clearly.

It is when the little beam of self gets before the vision and is enlarged by adding that we begin to fail of our purpose. It is because we allow self to get the upper hand that we grow unwisely and age long before our time. Selfishness can bring no permanent satisfaction, though it may be a matter of present pleasure. There is an old adage about children coming home to roost, and it holds pretty good in the matter of selfishness.

The moment we allow our ego to interfere with our plans or with progress of any work that moment we begin to become impatient as a force and as an agency in any cause. The underlying force of life is its potentiality for good. Every created thing has its purpose, and to each of us is given a definite design to work out. It we spoil the pattern by snarling the threads, who is to blame and who shall pay the penalty but ourselves?

We know in actual experience that the moment anything comes between us and our vision that moment we are incapable of seeing clearly or of proceeding with certainty. The same thing happens when we allow anything to obscure our mental vision. We cannot proceed clearly or with certainty because it has lost its focus of becoming so muddled that we know not how to proceed. If we allow self and self's desires to dominate us, we are certain not to see clearly and to grope as does one who has had the physical vision destroyed.

The world would be a happy place if most of its children could lose their idea of the importance of self and realize the relatively greater importance of man in the mass—of man as a social being with his responsibilities and his relationships to others. Then would the overfed ego disappear and the normal healthy one that respects self and desires only to be of service in a world where service is needed get its desert.

ANOTHER CONTEST IS TO BE STARTED SOON

Feature Editor Will Announce Terms and Conditions in Thursday's Issue of the Gazette.

So much interest has been displayed in the recent contests for women readers that the "Feature Editor" is now planning a new one that promises to be as interesting as the former. The full terms and conditions will be published in Thursday's paper, so be sure and watch for it.

As regards the menu contest the judges have failed to reach any agreement as to the other entries beyond the seven whose names have already been announced. The matter is still in abeyance and the result will be made known in a day or two. Meanwhile the menu of the successful seven will be published, that of Mrs. Danville, the winner of the second prize, being published this week.

Ways of Serving Cheap Meats.

A mutton stew, prepared by cutting the meat after wiping it well with a damp cloth, then fry it in a little fat until well browned, cover with boiling water and cook an hour and a half very slowly, and then add a cupful of green peas; serve with the peas. This is a cheap and good meat dish. The seasonings are added when the meat is nearly cooked.

Another stew which may be varied by the vegetables used to season it is Irish Stew.

Remove fat and gristle from the meat after wiping it; cut in half-inch cubes, season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour, then brown the meat in a little fat until well browned.

Cut turnips in dice, carrots in strips and potatoes in quarters; chop one onion and fry all but the potatoes with the meat. When brown, cover with boiling water and simmer until the meat is tender. Twenty minutes before serving add the potatoes. Use care about handling the mixture so that the stew is not mushy. Ten minutes before taking up add the dumplings, letting them rest on the meat to steam. Serve with the dumplings as a garnish around the edge of the platter.

A mutton stew, made like the Irish stew omitting the carrots and turnips.

Have the butcher chop the tough end of a porterhouse with a knife until it is in shreds. Cook this when the steak is broiled and it will be as tender as the rest.

Beef Cannelon.

Put two pounds of beef through the meat chopper, adding a square inch of kidney fat. Add a beaten egg, one-half a cup of bread crumbs, a tablespoonful of onion juice, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, a few drops of onion juice, two teaspoonfuls of salt and a teaspoonful of pepper. Bake in a greased pan, cover with strips of salt pork while baking. Bake 40 minutes.

If one cares to make this especially nice, round steak may be used and serve it with mushroom sauce. Taste while baking with soup stock or butter and water, if there is not enough fat from the pork.

WHO IS HELOISE?

May 17.—When Cupid draws his bow and plants a dart in the vicinity of a young lady's heart she begins to think she is another Heloise. Who is Heloise? Why she is the young lady who is supposed to hold the "lover's" record. At any rate she is the maiden over whom poets have raved in "steep different" languages. Heloise was born in 1101, and was brought up by an old uncle, a canon, a scholar, and a smooth-tongued who gave her an education that combined with her heavy give her the drop on all the other young ladies in her native village, Paris. Among these she met with the famous logician, Peter Abelard. It was a case of love at first sight, and Abelard, regardless of his holy orders, wanted to build a public marriage, but Heloise would not let him withdraw from his labors. Instead she buried herself in a convent and spent 40 years dreaming of her love. When both were dead they were brought to Paris where a magnificent monument was erected over both, and it is now the Merveil for "spooners". Heloise died May 17, 1161.

UNIVERSITY SCANDAL CONTINUES TO GROW DESPITE POLICEMEN

Peeping Tom Not Yet Caught Despite Presence of Astute Detectives and Armed Guards.

There comes from Madison from time to time the tales of the actions of a "Peeping Tom," who has annoyed the women students, both those living at the Chabourne hall, the women's dormitory, and also at the various sorority houses, by his actions. In fact, while the authorities have thus far kept the worst of the tales out of the newspapers, enough has been said and written to show that the condition is deplorable. It is a known fact that the authorities have applied to President Van Hise, the President of the State Board of University Regents and to Governor McGovern himself, for protection for their daughters. That the authorities have practically stated they were powerless to stop the actions of the unknown miscreant and had no means to protect students who did not live on the "campus" itself.

Detectives Employed. Acting on this advice it is also known that ten residents of the state employed two detectives from a well known and famous agency to make an investigation and these men have now been six weeks on the case and no results have been obtained. In fact, Dr. Humphreys, the new manager of the University, has taken the matter in charge himself and still nothing definite can be found out of the moral degenerate who frightens young girls by suddenly appearing in their rooms at night or peeping at them from a point of vantage in a tree.

Jamestown has always had a good reputation at the University and the following story comes from one of the present students there who sent it to several newspapers in the state in the hopes of arousing public sentiment on the matter that some radical steps might be taken and the miscreant discovered and punished. The following is the latest report of the affair with unvarnished truth:

"The girl students of the University of Wisconsin are in a condition of terror as a result of the inability of the authorities to catch the mysterious man who has been entering sorority houses and women buildings during the last four months. The board of regents of the university, parents of some of the girl students, and the Madison police have been co-operating in an effort to catch the man, but have so far been unsuccessful.

To date this mysterious man has entered two sorority houses and one private house devoted entirely to girl students. He has also been seen peeping through windows at Chabourne hall, where a large number of coeds live, and other places where girls reside. In one of the sorority houses, which he entered last month, he is said to have assaulted the matron. At another place he is said to have compelled two coeds to dance for him. He has never taken any jewelry, money or other property of value.

May Be Deranged Student. "Chief of Police Thomas Shaugnessy, of Madison, says he believes the mysterious man is a deranged student. He began his operations last fall by climbing the fire escape of Chabourne hall and other big buildings in the university section and peeping at the girls through the windows. Early this year he began entering the houses. He wears a handkerchief as a mask and carries an electric flashlight and a shining revolver. He usually enters the houses through a window or door in the basement and forces doors until he reaches the apartments of the girls.

Most of the girls, though panic stricken, have held him and bluffed him until he became alarmed and left. In the last house he entered the girl he assaulted screamed lustily and the landlady gave an alarm, but the fellow escaped.

Dodge Officers Skillfully. "A large number of private detectives are working on the case, but so far have not succeeded in finding the man. It seems that the fellow somehow or other knows the movements of the university authorities and the private detectives and remains quiet when they are most active. When they let up for a few days he resumes operations. The report that a real estate dealer was questioned by the detectives is denied.

"The private detectives work under J. C. Humphreys, business manager of the university. Chief Shaugnessy has all of his extra men in the university section every night. Most of the sororities now have men watching both the inside and outside of their houses."

LIFELONG RESIDENT OF COUNTY IS DEAD

Daniel Shaw Passed Away in the Evansville Hospital After Severe Illness of Several Weeks.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, May 16.—Daniel Shaw passed away at the Smith hospital in this city at eleven o'clock last evening after a severe illness of several weeks of cancer of the stomach. Mr. Shaw was born in the township of Center, Rock County, Wisconsin, Dec. 28, 1848 and his boyhood days were spent on the farm home. While still living in Center he was united in marriage to Miss Alvira D. Ames. In 1870 they moved from Wisconsin to Pawnee City, Nebraska, where they remained for five years, but their love for their old home and Wisconsin settled at Footville. They resided there until 1897, when they removed to a farm near Evansville. In 1900 Mrs. Shaw was afflicted with paralysis and passed to the home beyond. They were the parents of ten children, four of whom died while still infants. The six surviving children are Mrs. R. A. Nevill of Mansfield, S. Dakota; John H. Shaw, Redfield, S. Dakota; George and Orrie Shaw of Woodstock, Ill.; Elsie and Shirley Shaw of this city. Mr. Shaw was a valued member of the Free Baptist church and was a member of the church choir. He was a Mason, uniting with the order at Footville in 1882, and will be buried with rites of the order. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at twelve thirty o'clock in the Free Baptist church, and the body will be taken to the Grove church cemetery at Center for burial.

SPOKE TO MEN OF CITY LAST NIGHT

Dr. Thompson, General Secretary of Men's Brotherhood, Gave Address at M. E. Church Last Night.

Dr. Thompson, general secretary of the national Men's Brotherhood of the Methodist church, spoke last evening at Central Methodist M. E. church to the members of the local brotherhood and of similar societies in the city. The meeting was opened with two hymns and Dr. Thompson was introduced. He spoke of the men's work being done in the churches and stated it was the hardest work attempted by the church. It must, he said, come from the men and mostly from the men. There are societies for the women and young people in the church, but the men have been neglected. The Gospel, he declared, had been preached alike to men, women and children, but there were in it certain parts containing appropriate messages to men and more stress should be laid on these to interest the men and bring the Gospel to them. Dr. Thompson stated that in his belief no attention should be given to the question for men, although the pastor might have to neglect the other organizations of the church. The men are not only the backbone of the church, but they are the backbone of the world. These men who are affiliated with the church do not feel their religious obligations as deeply as those of the business or professional world.

The spoke of the boy problem in the churches, saying that twenty-five per cent of the boys between the ages of twelve and sixteen were drifting away from the church. This problem, he said, was secondary to the solution of the problem of the men and the solution of the latter would materially aid in the solution of the boy problem. The example of men successful in business life attending church, he declared, would serve to bring the boys into the church. The duty of the church, Dr. Thompson stated, is to provide the proper environment for the boys and hold the men to its active support.

The extension work of the brotherhood was told of by Dr. Thompson. To continue this work, he said, it was necessary that the brotherhoods should lend their aid. He asked that the local brotherhood assist in this movement and proceed to help carry on the work made.

The Great Companion.

In life's obscurest places and lowliest tasks it is a great comfort and inspiration to know that in them we have the companionship and the sympathy of Christ. He gives to everyone a special work, our little duties as well as our greatest responsibilities and opportunities. He made the heavens; but he also ended himself with a towel and washed the feet of his disciples, saying, "I am among you as he that serveth." His strength is made perfect in our weakness. The common task is always a sublime opportunity. "He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much." Christ's servants are also his friends, however lowly their place, however humble their gifts, however incomplete their fidelity.

Irreverent Youngster. Johnny, who had taken his time in dressing, was too late for family prayers, and he stopped at the door of the sitting room and listened.

"Get!" he said to himself, "paw ain't half through yet. He's just got to with joy you draw water out of the wells of salvation."

GO IN FOR DAIRYING IN THE "Stanley Country"

The out-crover Hardwood Lands in the Stanley Country have all the natural conditions necessary for successful dairying, such as climate, soil, pure water and an abundance of clover and wild grasses. When the timber is cut, the clover becomes King and creates pasture unsurpassed anywhere, thus paying for the expense of preparing the soil for the raising of small grains, etc. Wisconsin has over one thousand creameries and nearly two thousand cheese factories, which is one-half of the creameries and one-sixth of the cheese factories in the whole United States.

THE STUMP PROBLEM IS NOW SOLVED.

This was formerly the one obstacle that the new settler in Wisconsin had to contend with. What drainage and irrigation did for the south and west, the powerful land clearing machines, clearing from three to five acres a day, will do for the out-crover lands in Wisconsin.

Why go thousands of miles away from your old home and settle on the expensive lands of the west and south when good fertile lands can be had at $15.00 per acre in the high priced communities within a few hours' ride from the world's best markets. Call and see me or write for descriptive folder.

NEW GLARUS LAD IN A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Theodore Wiltmer, Aged 16, Was Struck With Time of Hay Fork Which Penetrated His Chest.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Glarus, May 16.—Theodore Wiltmer, sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wiltmer, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. His father and two other brothers were engaged in removing hay from their barn, which was to be repaired and removing this hay they used the hay fork which was drawn by two horses. In some way the fork unhooked from the track above on the track, and one side of the fork, penetrating into the body of the boy, he was immediately taken to the hospital and immediately placed by the doctors of Madison to assist him while dressing the wound.

Miss Clara Hefty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hefty, died yesterday morning at ten o'clock. The deceased was taken sick with sudden fever last fall and was sick more or less ever since. The deceased was 11 years old and lived in a large circle of relatives and friends.

SUGGESTION IS MADE REGARDING FLOWERS

Answer to the Request for Article on the Flower Gardens in Printed Column.

In answer to the request of the Feature Editor for suggestions for the improvement of the garden with flowers or vegetables, the following article has been sent out. While perhaps a bit late to plant this season, still the idea is worth trying. "Jamestown people in preparing their flower gardens, would do well not to forget the camera, which has such an important part in florists' displays. As it is one of the easiest plants to grow and one of the most decorative, it is one of the most popular. It is advised that camera make the best appearance when planted in groups on the lawn, used as center plants, where mixed planting is done in flower beds, and some of the dwarf varieties are indispensable for narrow border planting.

Propagation is easy and rapid, both by division and seed. By division, the tubers should be separated when planted out in the spring, to a single eye, or if two eyes should be so evenly divided that separation cannot be effected without cutting the new growth, then it is better to plant the two eyes together.

"Cameras will flower within three weeks from the time of the sowing of the seed if given in a warm place with plenty of light. The seed should be kept in hot water at least 24 hours before sowing, and it is a good plan to cut, with a sharp knife, the outer shell, which is so hard and horrible that the germ will frequently perish in trying to force its way out.

"Cameras may be sown in pots or shallow boxes, and as soon as the young plants are an inch high they may be potted singly. The soil in which they are grown, when young, is of little importance; they will grow well on any plant soil.

"As all cameras are rank growers, they should have the soil very rich. As after they are removed from the pots, and worked deep, to fully develop their leaves. The tubers naturally grow near the surface, therefore do not require deep planting; they need not be covered more than three inches.

"The florist added: "Since the introduction of many new varieties, the value of the camera has greatly increased by adding to the already attractive foliage large flowers of the most brilliant colors. No other plant is better adapted to our climate and nothing excites so little envy, it for its beauty and brilliant foliage, as well as the abundance of dazzling bloom in many shades."

The plant, orchid-flowered, bronze-leaved and gold-edged varieties are particularly admired.

FOGELL FREED BY JURY YESTERDAY

Verdict of Not Guilty Brought in Late Yesterday Afternoon in Beloit Case On Trial Here.

Not guilty was the verdict of the jury yesterday afternoon in the case of the State of Wisconsin against Frank Fogell of Beloit, charged with the theft of tools from the Fairbanks-Morse Manufacturing Company of that city and Judge Fifield discharged the prisoner. The case went to the jury at half past three o'clock yesterday and the jurors brought in their verdict in less than fifteen minutes. The trial was brought here from the Beloit municipal court on a change of venue and has been on trial here since Saturday morning.

More Cases of Rheumatism Have Been Overcome By the Chiropractors

Rheumatism is a pain which expresses approaching danger. Rheumatic pains are first pains that invariably lead to other vital ailments unless a normal condition is restored to the body. Every man and woman suffering with Rheumatism should come to the Chiropractors at once.

Dosing the stomach with noxious drugs, poisons, etc., work more harm than good in many cases. More people have died in hospitals and sick rooms than in war.

The Chiropractors say:

Do Not Look For Health In a Medicine Bottle

It is not there. Nature makes people well. In many cases where drugs and poisons are given the patients get well in spite of the medicine. Nature is the only healer. If the cause of the ailment is removed, there is no reason why you should not get well.

Come to our offices tomorrow for an examination and consultation free. Let us explain to you the wonderful Science of Chiropractic that has made such a wonderful record all over the United States.

Hundreds in Rock County who came to the Chiropractors have gotten well.
